DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nesbitt (4,431,193). Regarding claims 1-3 and 8, Nesbitt discloses a solid golf ball comprising a core, an intermediate layer, and outer cover. Applicant discloses the intermediate layer may be made from ionomers such as Surlyn 1605 (page 17); therefore, the intermediate layer of Nesbitt inherently discloses the elongation and flexural stiffness since it is made from Surlyn 1605. The cover layer is made from a thermoplastic ionomer. Regarding claim 7, the intermediate layer is made from one material. Regarding claims 4, 9 and 10, the intermediate layer has a thickness from 0.5 to 1.78 mm (fig 2). Regarding claim 11, the cover has a hardness of 54 (Surlyn 1855).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nesbitt (4,431,193) in view of Sullivan et al (6,520,871). The cover is made from Surlyn 1855 and has a Shore D hardness of 54. While Nesbitt does not disclose an outer cover hardness between 25 and 52 the use of a soft outer layer is disclosed. Sullivan discloses a thermoplastic cover layer with a Shore D hardness less than 53. One of ordinary skill in the art would have modified the outer cover material for the desired feel.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
